Coxey Returns to His Own Army.

Preparations for Locating at the Capital.

Sacramento Troops Leave Kelly for "Col." Spead.

Orders Issued by the Court to Prevent the Seizing of Trains — The Denver Reserve — A Washington Commune.

FREEDRICKS (Md.) April 24.—(Special to the Associated Press) Coxey returned to the Commonwealth Army today and was received with cheers. Coxey was well pleased with the result of his New York expedition. He said the trunk-line roads had not yet decided whether or not they would give reduced rates to Washington on May 1. There was to be a special meeting of the managers today, and their decision will be telegraphed him.

While in New York, Coxey said he had been offered $100,000 by Woodley Park, outside Washington, as a landing-ground for the army. This is one of the most beautiful of the suburban real estate divisions about Washington, with good roads, wood, grass and close to Rock Creek. The offer was made by Mrs. H. P. Waggoner, owner of the land, who, it transpires, Coxey had met at Tattersalls during his horse sales. The offer has not yet been accepted, but a conference between Browne and Coxey on the subject will be held tomorrow.

The Commonwealth is growing, nearly 300 men marching out of Camp Daniel Boone this morning. They were joined this afternoon by the 1st. In Frederick, they found another party of thirty-five men under "Windy" White, the old trumpet discharged at Williamsport last week. White was taken back into the fold, and the recruits were accepted and enlisted.

Tonight Brown and Coxey addressed a large meeting at Junior Hall.

A LEGAL OPINION.

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) April 24.—Judge Henry C. Caldwell this evening received a telegram from Judge Sanborn at St. Paul, giving particulars of the seizure of a train on the Northern Pacific by the Industrial Army. Judge Sanborn also telephoned a lengthy account later to Atty.-Gen. Olney, a copy of which telegram is embodied in his statement to Judge Caldwell. Under the statement, several arms are now located at several towns on the line of the Northern Pacific, and closes by stating that traffic on the road is in a confused state, owing to the damage involved. Judge Caldwell forwarded the following message to the Commonwealth, together with Mr. Sanborn's statement:

"The right to the possession, control and use of the property of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, in the Eighth Judicial Circuit is in the receivers of the United States Circuit Court, appointed by those courts in districts through which said road runs. It is the highest duty of the cities to protect their officers in the possession and use of said property. If the persons who forcibly and illegally seized a train of cars on said road in Montana shall bring the same into the Eighth Circuit, it is the duty of the United States Circuit Court to instruct to all use the power of the government at their command to capture the train and restore the possession thereof to the officers of said courts and punish the guilty parties."

THE KELLYITES.

Another Ruction in Camp—The Sacramento Pull Out.

WALNUT (Iowa) April 24.—Kelly's Industrial Army reached here at noon today, and after a hasty luncheon started to Atlantic, where they are due tonight. At Avoca the populace turned out en masse to bid the Commonwealthers good-by. The wagons that brought the men from Neola returned last night and today sixty-three fresh teams were furnished by the farmers in an adjacent county and were driven into camp. The wagons were loaded with provisions and the townsmen furnished plenty of provisions.

As the army came down the steep hill into Walnut it was received with the same cordial welcome which characterized the receptions since it left Council Bluffs. The officials and wives and the townsmen furnished plenty of provisions. The stop here was brief and the army was soon on its way for Atlantic, twenty miles from Avoca. The farmers greeted the men with words of encouragement, and now and then a well-filled provision wagon would pass amid great cheering. A carload of provision from Omaha was promised.

Some excitement was caused in camp late last night by the report that two men had been poisoned. The physicians who investigated the report said the men had taken an overdose of cough medicine and were only slightly ill.

At Atlantic elaborate preparations for the reception of the army were made and committees were arranging details and collecting provisions. A successor to "Col." Baker, who was discharged and who ranked next to Kelly, was chosen and his name is "Col. Spead of Sacramento" will probably be elected tomorrow. The Commonwealthers are bitter in their condemnation of Baker and his methods, and his threat to expose matters financial. Should the "ex-colonel" attempt to return to the army he is likely to receive rough handling. The men express great confidence in Kelly and are allowed to view the accounts of the army whenever they wish.

Spad, who sided with the deposed "Col." Baker, for refusing to obey Kelly's order to march with the company wagons, told him a conference with Kelly. He exchanged compliments followed. The Sacramento men took sides with Spead, while San Francisco favored Kelly. A short distance beyond Walnut they halted to discuss the impending trouble. Spead mounted a wagon to make a speech, and a fight ensued. Some stones were gathered and clubs waved.

The Woman's Auxiliary has issued a call for provisions, and has opened a room, where they will be received. Both the women and the general meeting of the army adopted resolutions, condemning the position of City Council, calling on the Chicago police to prevent Kelly's army from entering Chicago. On this matter, Mayor Hopkins said today:

"The Council cannot give such orders to the Chief of Police, but as an expression of opinion of the Aldermen I do not say that your resolution should not be pursued, or that it will not be followed, neither do I say it will. We will act in this Coxey matter promptly, and as the exigencies of the case require."

The number of the Chicago army is about seven hundred. Its start is indefinite, but will probably be made on Saturday.

DISCORDANT CONDITIONS.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 24.—Col. Vincent and seven of his associates of the Industrial Army who were arrested on a charge of inciting riot at Colton a few days ago, were brought at Butte broke into a Northern Pacific roundhouse last night and seized an engine and train and started East at forty miles an hour.

There are between four hundred and five hundred men in this army. They have been camped at Butte, Mont., for several days, while their leaders are trying to arrange for transportation. They concluded that if they wanted a train they must take it. At midnight they reached Bozeman, where they stopped for break of day, intending to resume their journey at once. The Northern Pacific officials say there is nothing to stop them near Livingston, as a single washout will cause some delay.

The men with their captured train are near Livingston, stopped by a small cave-in in a tunnel. The company is standing back to allow the army to clear the track if they want to.

The latest news is that, after supper, Kelly's men prepared for their march east, and the train was all ready to start. Officials of the Northern Pacific in this city have given orders for a clear track. General Manager Kendrick said: "It's all we can do, for we have too many men for human beings to do anything else."

Nothing has been heard of the serving of a warrant on Hogan at Livingston, on a charge of larceny of a train.

CHARTERED A BOX-CAR.

TERRE HAUTE (Ind.) April 24.—Fry's army left here for Brazil at 4 o'clock today. The army chartered a box-car for Indianapolis, and the members will attempt to ride over in it.

LATER—Unexpected developments have come to light. The army did not succeed in getting out of town, and 300 of them are squatting on top and inside of box cars and refuse to move. There was a hitch between the army and the railway company, and the train went off without them.

Washington's monument, on the summit of South Mountain, was saluted with three cheers by the army. Frederick, seventeen miles away, is the next stopping place.

RECEIVED HIS ORDERS.

ST. PAUL, April 24.—United States Marshal Bode has received orders from Atty.-Gen. Olney to carry out Judge Caldwell's instructions, and it is necessary to call on the President for military assistance.

CLEARED THE TRACK.

HELENA (Mont.) April 24.—The Butte contingent of Coxey's army is sailing toward the National Capitol over the Northern Pacific Railroad, at the rate of forty miles an hour, and, unless stopped, or some accident occurs, they will arrive at St. Paul to-morrow morning. At 4 o'clock this morning the army captured a lot of freight cars and an engine, and 400 of the men started. An old Northern Pacific engineer, who was discharged from the service some time ago, was engineer, and he sent the train on the mountain at a high speed.

On arrival at Roseman, the army found there was a cave in the Bozeman tunnel. The regular passenger train, due in this city at 9 o'clock this morning, was on this side of the break, waiting for it to be repaired, but the army did not waste any time and went into the tunnel and with such speed that they cleared the tracks, so the train could get through. They shot out of the tunnel at the speed of an express train, and the last heard of them, they were well on their way to Miles City.

THE NEW ENGLANDERS.

PAWTUCKET (R. I.) April 24.—The New England division of Coxey's army reached this city in good condition. They halted two hours at Collier Park, where Leader Fitzgerald made a speech.

GETTING OUT THE GUNS.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Several stands of small arms and repeating rifles were delivered at the Treasury Department today. The small arms were turned over to Capt. Putnam of the treasury watch, and the repeating rifles were placed at convenient points about the Treasury Building.

WILL MAKE SPEECHES.

BRAZIL (Ind.) April 24.—Fry's army arrived here today. It will remain three days. Fry will deliver speeches and secure recruits.

THE IRON MOLDERS.

CHICAGO, April 24.—A story is printed here to the effect that Gen. Sullivan made arrangements with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for transportation of 5000 iron molders in boxes to Washington. Baltimore and Ohio officials deny it.

The mind of the iron molders underwent a change late tonight and they now declare they will go to Washington. Recruits came in today and their present and altered views a trifle. Milwaukee sent ninety men under the leadership of Charles Martin and an accompanying delegation of 600 persons. James Valentine of San Francisco brought in 200 men and reported another body soon arriving.

The very last plan is for the iron molders to join forces with "Gen." Kelly. Kelly will probably be asked tomorrow to come to Chicago for a conference.

A WASHINGTON COMMONWEAL.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The Washington headquarters of the Commonwealth of Christ in Rechabite Hall, were resplendent today with the sheen of a gorgeous silken banner sent by the supporters in Kansas City. The two most conspicuous personages about the place were the two Whites, W. D. White of the Community of Chicago, and R. J. White of Community F. Both are very intelligent men.

W. D. White served under Gen. Mansfield in the war and has been an employee of the Westinghouse Electric Company, and had three ribs and an arm broken in the fire at the cold-storage warehouse on the Chicago exposition grounds. W. D. White is proud of having been one of Mansfield's men, and both will go to the West to do missionary work until the army arrives.

They denounce the "Unknown" for collecting money under false pretenses and assert that Coxey's men are orderly law-abiding citizens from Washington, not to be afraid to fear. They believe that Gen. Echo will be selected for the Washington camping place of the army, a spot on the edge of the city, where there was an unsuccessful attempt by real estate men two years ago to establish a Chautauquan colony, and which has been dedicated to the army by its own members.

An appeal for contributions of money and provisions from the public has been issued by the local committee which includes among its members the wife of Representative John Davis of Wisconsin and Rev. Alexander Kent, the prominent church man. One of the most prominent labor leaders of the city, Mr. Hobbs, whose name has been connected with Coxey, represents it as follows: "So far as I know labor organizations intend to give no support to this movement. All citizens are interested in seeing the Coxeyes do what the visitors violate the laws, they will receive no support from us."

Spad, who sided with the deposed "Col." Baker, for refusing to obey Kelly's order to march with the company wagons, told him a conference with Kelly.

He exchanged compliments followed. The Sacramento men took sides with Spead, while San Francisco favored Kelly. A short distance beyond Walnut they halted to discuss the impending trouble. Spead mounted a wagon to make a speech, and a fight ensued. Some stones were gathered and clubs waved.

you will let us," said the spokesman. Kelly told the men it would ruin the cause of the unemployed if they took such action. There was much adverse comment, and Kelly is evidently alarmed.

ANOTHER MUTINY.

ATLANTIC (Iowa) April 24.—Kelly's Industrial Army reached Atlantic at 6 o'clock tonight with "Col." Spead and his followers in the ranks. The day has been an eventful one. Spead and his followers, and separation of the Sacramento and San Francisco divisions having been made during the march with narrowly-averted war. Spead has refused to obey the orders issued by Kelly and was promptly court-martialed and reduced to the ranks. The Sacramento men at once declared it would desert Kelly and follow Spead and the camp was soon in a state of wild disorder.

About 300 declared for Spead and the men argued their differences with clubs and stones. A fight was averted, however, by Kelly's coolness. Before they reached Atlantic the Sacramento and the camp was soon in a state of wild disorder.

The latest news is that, after supper, Kelly's men prepared for their march east, and the train was all ready to start. Officials of the Northern Pacific in this city have given orders for a clear track. General Manager Kendrick said: "It's all we can do, for we have too many men for human beings to do anything else."

Boone added zest to the evening performance in the wild animal arena at the Midwinter Fair tonight, by dropping some of his own blood into the mouth of a savage lion.

During the performance of the tricycle-riding act by "Pompey," a savage lion, Boone stooped to help the lion place his paws on the pedals. He had just accomplished this task when "Pompey" struck him a terrific blow on the head. The claws cut deep gashes which bled freely. Col. Boone bandaged his bleeding head with a handkerchief, and kept it cool with the lion's hair. Boone took a handkerchief to the cut. Col. Boone put the beast through his paces.

Then came the final act, in which Boone showed his wonderful nerve by removing the bandage and inserting his head between the jaws of the beast while the warm blood trickled down his neck. So complete was the mastery has Boone over his animals that "Pompey" stood and meekly swallowed his portion without straining for more.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE

Weekly Meeting of the Police Commission.

Only a Small Amount of Routine Business Transacted.

The Roscoe Suspects Again Before Judge Smith.

Pleas of Not Guilty Entered and Time Set for Trial—The Will of the Late Don Antonio F. Coronel Filed for Probate.

The principal topic of conversation about the City Hall yesterday was the report of the Auditing Committee on the eighth Ward election expenses and the probable result of the action of J. Marion Brooks in taking the report from the office of the City Clerk after it was claimed to be filed.

The Police Commission met in the morning and transacted some routine business.

At the Courthouse the Roscoe suspects were again before Judge Smith, and, after a defective indictment had been remedied, entered their pleas of not guilty. The will of the late Don Antonio F. Coronel was filed for probate.

AT THE CITY HALL

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Regular Weekly Meeting of the Board—Routine Business.

The Police Commission met yesterday morning and transacted a small amount of routine business. The Mayor and Commissioners Weldon and Bradish were present.

The Chief reported on the petition of Ed J. McCormick, at No. 416 South Main street, for a saloon license. Action on the matter was deferred for one week.

Applications from Joseph Albrecht for a saloon license at Nos. 112 and 114 Requena street, from C. T. Buchanan for saloon license at No. 1538 San Fernando street, from McMoroney & Lander for transfer of saloon license at No. 400 South Spring street, for transfer of saloon license from John McMoroney and from J. Marteitch for a saloon license at No. 2134 East First street were all referred to the Chief.

A petition of C. Cloetea for a restaurant license at No. 317½ South Main street was granted.

Applications of E. L. Bacon and R. Meier for appointments as special policemen were referred to the Chief.

P. H. Dominguez presented a communication in reference to his saloon at Wilmington and Commercial streets the license for which had been revoked. Action was taken by the board.

He asked that a hearing be given him and the same was granted. He stated that he had been keeping an orderly place, the reports of police officers to the contrary notwithstanding. He further stated it would vitally take away his means of earning a livelihood or deprive him of a license and would be an especially great hardship in view of the fact he has a family to support. Action on his petition was deferred till the next meeting of the board.

The license was revoked on reports from several of the police officers that various crimes had been traced directly or indirectly to that saloon.

CITY HALL NOTES.

The Fire Commissioners will meet this morning.

J. C. Salisbury and others have filed a protest against the construction of granite gutters on Spring street between Temple and Sixth streets.

C. W. H. Nelson has filed a petition, asking that he be allowed to withdraw his name from the ballot against the improvement of Echo Park road between Temple street and Belvedere avenue and that he be considered a petitioner for the improvement.

The City Council will meet in adjourned session at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

THE COURTS.

The Roscoe Robbery Case—Antonio Coronel's Will Filed—Notes.

Judge Smith sustained a demurra to the second indictment charging Walter Thorne, Pat Fitzsimmons and John Comstock with the second Roscoe train robbery, yesterday morning on the ground that two offenses were set forth in the one document. The fault was one not new to the District Attorney's office, but it appears that experienced in this instance, as it did not prevent the trial of the teacher. The indictment charged the defendants with having opened a switch with intent to derail a train, and also with having boarded a train with intent to rob it. There was no connecting link in the verbiage to show conclusively without the aid of presumption that the train the men had robbed, hence it might be inferred that one train had been derailed and another robbed. The court observed that the science of pleading was to plead the truth and that if the literal interpretation of the indictment was taken it was plain that the offense was charged, which construction was not allowable under the statute. The jury suggested that the grand jury prepare a new presentment.

In the matter of the motion to set aside the first indictment, as it affected Max Shroeder, alias Shulters, the order was that the motion be denied.

A. Montano appeared for Shroeder, announcing that he had been associated with Attorney Woolner in the case. He desired until Thursday to look up points, and time for Shroeder to plead was continued to Thursday.

All this legal maneuvering, as it affected Max Shroeder, alias Shulters, the order was that the motion be denied.

The will of the late Antonio F. Coronel was filed yesterday afternoon with the County Clerk. The document was entirely in the handwriting of the deceased and was written in Spanish. From the partition of the widow, which accompanied the will, it was learned that the estate, consisting of forty-two acres of land in the Colma, was valued at $3000, an undivided half interest in 900 acres of other land valued at $15,000, a tract of land at the corner of Seventh street and Central avenue valued at $30,000, a lot and house on the northeast corner of Alameda and Second streets valued at $1000, a lot and house on Buena Vista street valued at $4000, together with other property amounting to the sum of $10,000. In the will the widow Mariana Coronel is named as sole executor without bond, and the other devisees are: Manuel H. Coronel, Francisco Sabichi, Francisco Yndart, Jose Y. Coronel, Francisca Yorba and O. W. Longdon.

FOR DAMAGES.

The trial of the cause of Patrick Ryan vs. the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company came on in Department Two yesterday afternoon.

In the year 1890 Ryan was employed by the defendant company about the ice storage warehouse as a mechanic. On March 20 of that year, Ryan is alleged in the complaint he was working as usual. A new charging cylinder, in which ammonia was heated, had been put up and upon steam being turned into it for the first time it leaked considerably, in fact, so much so that the hands of the Ryan and another man to whom the cylinder was tightened up the head screws. Ryan complied with the order and after he had tightened the head somewhat the cylinder exploded, fracturing his hips and injuring him internally, from the effect of which injuries he is still a sufferer. He alleges that the accident would not have occurred had the cylinder head not been tightened and asks that damages be awarded him in the sum of $25,000.

IT WAS OVERRULED.

A demurrer to a counter claim in the case of Duhalde vs. Etchepare was overruled yesterday by Judge Shaw. The cause arose in the matter of the estate of Arnold Duhalde deceased, which was at the time in process of administration. The plaintiff, Mrs. Etchepare, a minor claimed to be the child and heir of the deceased and as such entitled to his estate and began proceedings to establish her claim. She was without means to support herself and prosecute the litigation, and at the instance of her mother, one Maria Ochoa, the defendant Etchepare, advanced her support and to carry on the litigation the sum of fifteen dollars and performed services for her in the litigation to the value of $100. In order to settle the plaintiff's claim the administrator of the estate made an agreement with the mother of the plaintiff, Mrs. Etchepare, to be appointed her guardian, and under that agreement the money in controversy was paid to the defendant. The agreement was for $100 for attorneys' fees, etc. After deducting the $16.75 advanced by himself and the various fees the defendant paid, he afterward paid to the guardian of the plaintiff, Mrs. Etchepare, still asked for $100 and the demurrer to such counter claims is overruled by the court.

Court Notes.

W. H. Holman was appointed magistrate in the L. A. Rawson insolvency case yesterday by Judge Shaw.

In Department Three yesterday demurrers were overruled in the cases of W. Broderon vs. W. S. Collins and May Hogan et al. vs. R. W. Lowe.

Judgment non concurrens for $67.64 was entered yesterday by Judge Dyke in the case of Kate Bailey vs. Ballen et al.

Leave to mortgage real estate was granted the German Evangelical Church yesterday in Department Four.

F. E. Olds has been discharged from insolvency by Judge Van Dyke upon satisfaction showing as to his estate.

L. E. Ewing, the young man who entered the house of Philip Hoffman on Temple street on April 7, and stole a set of harness, signified his willingness to plead guilty to the charge of burglary yesterday, and when brought before the court was sentenced to serve a term of two years and one month.

The plea was made that Ewing came of good family and that he had never before been arrested, and that statement was not without its weight with the court in securing a light sentence.

Hearing on a petition in intervention of Miller vs. the City Bank was taken up in Department Five yesterday.

In the contempt proceedings brought against Mrs. Theresa Luhring, Judge Shaw ordered the defendant to pay a fine of $100 or go to jail and the latter punishment was accepted by the defendant woman. Mrs. Luhring had refused to obey the order of the court in keeping her cows off a piece of ground which had been declared the property of Mrs. Emma Lattin.

New Suits.

Preliminary papers in the following new suits were filed with the County Clerk yesterday:

EDUCATE THE INDIAN.

Teachers of the Mission Schools at Coiton.

Organization of an Institute Perfected—Addressed by Agent Estudillo and a Number of the Educators.

COLTON, April 24.—(Special Correspondent.) About fifty people, mostly ladies, assembled at Society Hall this morning to form the first official Teachers' Institute of the Mission Tule River Consolidated Indian Agency. The teachers were welcomed in an opening address by United States Indian Agent Francisco Estudillo. He said that it was not necessary to introduce himself, as in the rounds required by his regular duties as agent he had met each one of the teachers upon several occasions. But this was a new and unaccustomed position for him to occupy, and placed him in a new relation to the teachers. He praised the work being done by the teachers in the Indian schools, and commended the teachers for their earnest enthusiasm in the noble work of "freeing the race from the fetters of ignorance and superstition." Though working without the encouragement of the world at large, and receiving credit but for little of the good the teachers are doing, they have the consciousness of being engaged in making the world better, and the ordinary business of the citizen. Indians are to be taught how to work, to buy and to sell and conduct the ordinary business of the citizen, and the teacher is to keep within his bounds the object in educating the Indians to make them happier and prepare them for American citizenship.

BOOK OF THE BUILDERS.

Number Two, Popular Edition, of the Great Memorial History

Of the World's Columbian Exposition is Now Ready for Delivery.

A Second Installment of Interesting Scenes of the Earliest Activity at the Fair—The First Cutting for a Lagoon—The First Ditch—The First Dredge Entering from the Lake—The First Bridge—Laying Construction Tracks—Raising the Grade—The Foundations of Buildings—Early Locomotion—The Work and Workers.

Of the wonderful success of the "Book of the Builders" there can no longer be a question. It seems as though not only every reader of The Times, but every family in the city of Los Angeles, was determined to own a copy of this greatest literary undertaking of the year. We have already secured from the Columbian Memorial Publication Society the right to increase the number of copies to which, by the original understanding, the edition was limited. We cannot too strongly emphasize to our readers who have thus far neglected this valuable opportunity that they are losing one of the greatest offerings ever made by a newspaper to its readers. Remember that the "Book of the Builders" is the first original work ever offered by an American newspaper to its subscribers under any coupon system of payment.

The first number of the "Book of the Builders," which was issued a fortnight ago, showed to the thousands of anxious and expectant subscribers that all words of praise fall far short of the real truth. The book was found to be a noteworthy publication in more respects than one. As a literary achievement it will certainly take its place by the side of the great American histories of the last hundred years. As a compendium of American art it stands absolutely unapproached by any previous publication. Besides the various illustrations appearing in the text of the first number, there were four full-page reproductions directly from original paintings by Frank D. Millet, H. Bolton Jones, Charles S. Reinhart and Lawrence Earle. These which they had grown and the exposure to frigid winds from the lake to which they had been subject to a late period every spring. Jackson Park enclosed an area of 620.25 acres, and the Midway Plaisance an area of 66.50 acres.

But it is in its artistic qualities that the second installment of the great volume is notably pre-eminent. Of full-page reproductions in fac-simile colors this installment contains four each taken from an original painting. H. Bolton Jones, the well-known artist, has portrayed with masterly touch the "W. W. Portal" of the building devoted to manufactures and liberal arts. George W. Maynard has a superb decorative panel of which the original appeared in the Agricultural Building. Charles C. Curran, the young artist whose work is attracting so much attention from the New York critics and public, has painted a wonderful painting of the "Water Gate" and J. Francis Murphy has finished few pictures more worthy of his brush than the charming view of Jackson Park as it appeared in the cold days of January, 1891.

With these four great masterpieces there are a dozen or more illustrations in black and white by W. H. Drake, H. Bolton Jones, H. S. Reinhart, Herbert Denman, Frank Russell Greene, T. de Thulstrup, Harry Fenn, Julian Rix and J. D. Woodward. These illustrations, which are all from sketches made on the spot, deal principally with the important initial steps in the direction of preparing the first work of excavating, dredging, filling, grading and surveys. There is a charming sketch of the first cutting for a lagoon, which has all the softness of an old painting. There is an engraving presented to the visitor to the fair as he walked up the majestic building, after it had located here, showing a churning operation by W. F. Drake. Illustrates the early method of locomotion in Jackson Park. A line of nine small dump cars is winding its way over a little narrow-gauge track, drawn by mules. A very interesting view is that given of the foundations of the Administration Building, which were originally laid in September of the year 1891. The interested reader will gain from it the first realization that he has probably had of the method by which these buildings were supported, with their great weight of material and their slight exhibit.

An aqueduct picture is also labeled "Sunday in Jackson Park." It shows a score of persons fishing in the waters of the lagoon, on the same spot where later, millions paid homage to the beauties of the Court of Honor.

Last of all comes the finest picture, by all odds, in this second installment, which is a reproduction directly from an original painting by H. Bolton Jones, and portrays the south end of Wooded Island, as it appeared in July, 1891. This single picture tells, perhaps, more vividly than pages of reading text could possibly do of the many serious obstacles and discouragements which the builders of the World's Fair were called upon to overcome before the American public. In a long line of sedges was partially inundated, with enormous hillocks and mounds on every side, between which are long pools of stagnant water, while in the background is a heavy growth of underbrush and gnarled oak trees, and beyond this the open waters of the lake. A great stone bridge, which had run into a lagoon on the right of the picture, and under the trees in the farther left-hand corner there is a rude tent. Scores of workmen, scarcely larger than specks in the great picture, are engaged in all the different occupations of dredging and excavating, filling, leveling, etc. It is a picture upon which one lingers a long time, and to which our readers will find themselves constantly returning, with a new and deeper sense of what the World's Fair really means to the men who created it.

We have ready, in many previous announcements, explained to our readers the method by which we have been enabled to secure the publication expressly in their interests of this popular edition of the "Book of the Builders." As is probably well known, the standard edition of this great book is to cost $100, a copy of which, for one of the reach of ordinary mortals, is not available to the semi-millionaires. It is a matter on which the public and the Times are to be mutually congratulated that this great work has at last been made available to the great body of American readers, thousands of whom have been compelled to find themselves literally choked with the enormous volume of its sights and scenes, and unable to carry away or retain the smallest fractional part of all they witnessed and desired to remember.

But through this popular edition of the "Book of the Builders," the very storehouse of experience, the treasury of history, of art, of science, lies within their reach. We speak advisedly when we say that it is the greatest opportunity which we have ever offered to our readers, and which probably, in the natural course of events, we shall ever be able to offer them. By simply cutting off a portion of the "Book of the Builders" (each of a different date,) with the small sum of 25 cents (or 30 cents by mail) any reader of The Times can secure a single installment of this famous book. No further arguments will be necessary than the desire to obtain which succeeding part as it is issued will be secured in his mind that no further words of ours will be needed to continue the good work. If there is any one of our readers who has not already secured the first installment of the "Book of the Builders," he would say, "It is within reach."

And to every reader of The Times we say today, "Bring your coupons and money to our art department, and secure this superb second installment of the wonderful book." Address all letters to Los Angeles Times (World's Fair Memorial) great pieces were reproduced in all the fac-simile colors of nature, and the demand for duplicate copies of this first number of the "Book of the Builders" attests very plainly a general desire on the part of the public to secure some of these more artistic pictures, that may not be suitably framed and hung on the walls of the library.

The incidental illustrations of the first number supplied many interesting scenes of the early activity at Jackson Park in the winter of 1890-91. There was a view of the contractors' camp and the dredges used in the work; there was an engraving of the historic "Shanty Town" and a picture of the first gate, which the workmen entered every morning and through which they departed at night. Most interesting of all, perhaps, was the illustration of the Grand Court of Honors as it appeared in March, 1891. One looked down into the depths of a forest. Squirrels played about in the trees, and in the distance there was a rough board shanty, which became memorable afterward as the first building ever erected in connection with the work of the World's Fair.

As announced in the head of this article, the second installment of the "Book of the Builders" is now ready, and to say it is equal to the first installment would be indeed high praise. But we are justified in claiming even more than this, and awarding it a place quite above the picturesque first number of the popular book.

The rest continues where the earlier installment ended.

Here begins the narrative of the interesting expert work of Frederick Law Olmsted and his partner, Henry Sargent Codman. The installment ends with the appointment of the first practical engineer for the exposition, M. & C. as consulting landscape architects, Burnham & Root as consulting architects and A. Gottlieb as consulting engineer. These men formed the nucleus of what became later the construction department.

An interesting point in the narration occurs in the tenth page. It is explained that on the 20th of November, 1890, the consulting board, as the small organization was called, received instructions to provide within twenty-four hours' time plans and specifications for buildings to be erected in Jackson Park and on the site front, basing these plans on the classification of the list of exhibits which was then for the first time produced.

A good idea of the overwhelming volume of work which then had to be done, and of the seemingly insuperable obstacles which stood in the way, may be gathered from the following extract from this second volume of the "Book of the Builders":

"The larger part of the site to be dealt with was swampy, sandy, flat, liable at times to be submerged by the lake. Other parts were low ridges, which had originally been sand bars thrown up by the lake. Upon some of these ridges there were trees, most of them oak, of stunted habit because of the sterile and water-soaked soil in first railroad bridge ever constructed on the fair grounds, and will be an interesting sight to everyone. The next three illustrations all deal with the work of grading and excavating. In the first of these a gang of men is employed in laying construction tracks for the first railroad. Farther down on the page we see the operations of raising the grade. Here the great steam dredges are at work, apparently tearing its way along through the solid earth, though it has left in its wake a clear canal to the lake. Heavy levelers, each drawn by two mules, are seen in the foreground.

This is one of the most interesting news in this entire number, and the picture on page 13 of "Administration Hall" exactly as it appeared in August, 1891. A dozen operations may here be counted at different parts of the park.

Following this comes a view of the foundations of the Woman's Building, which is described as follows: "The reader, as he looks at this picture, to detect the slightest resemblance anywhere to the superb view which was stolen Officer McGraw's pistol from his room at No. 144 South Main street, on Monday morning, was taken before Justice Austin yesterday afternoon for examination upon the charge of burglary, and was held to answer under bonds in the sum of $1500.

Emery will also have to answer to the charge of grand larceny, as yesterday morning he was identified as the man who recently disposed of a shotgun which was stolen from the Arcade depot last Thursday. The man, whose name is L. W. Marcy of Phoenix, Ariz., was checking his baggage. The gun was recovered the same day by Detective Benson, but no clew could be obtained to the thief at the time.

Arrested at the County Jail.

John Magnon of Wilmington was taken to the County Jail yesterday to serve a thirty days sentence in jail, and John Taylor was committed to that institution for ten days upon conviction of vagrancy by a Pomona justice.

[RAILROAD RECORD.] EMIGRANT WAR.

How It is Affecting the California Roads.

Southern Pacific Will Lose a Long Haul.

Fighting Over the Arizona Central Road's Bonds.

Pecos River Road Valuation—The Santa Fe Reorganization Committee—General, Local and Personal Railroad Notes.

General Agent D. W. Hitchcock of the Union Pacific at San Francisco has issued a circular letter to coupon-ticket agents on this Coast saying that notwithstanding the fact that information is being sent out to the effect that Peter McDonnell, emigrant agent for the Union Pacific system, has gone out of business, he is still connected with that company at New York, at the old stand, where all orders drawn on him for emigrant tickets to points in California and elsewhere will be honored as usual, and the same commissions paid on the business as paid by other lines.

This announcement explains why McDonnell refused to accept his discharge as joint agent from the chairman of the Western Association. Though he was paid by all the roads in the agreement, has been considered as he is now proclaimed, the representative of the Union Pacific. It is difficult to see what result this emigrant rate war will go, but it is bound to be a losing business for all the roads that engage in it. It is thought that the Union Pacific has simply begun a contest of endurance. It can stand a loss of $100,000 a month, and the merits of the case will still be unsettled.

The entire dispute is over the proportion of the business the Union Pacific shall carry.

After weeks of conference no agreement could be reached.

While associations lines were prepared to meet the Union Pacific in its bid for the business, the Union Pacific went after it in foreign countries with the result of contracting the bulk of it.

S. P. EMIGRANT BUSINESS.

CHICAGO, April 24.—The Southern Pacific today showed that the low emigrant rate recently established by the Western passenger line is rubbing. In order to secure the longest possible haul on the California emigrant business it has been routing west by way of New Mexico, the intention being to force the Missouri River will force it either to route the business in some other way or reduce the rate by way of New Orleans. Only one thing can get the rates back again and that is to have the Union Pacific become a member of the Western Passenger Association, or at least a party to the emigrant agreement.

IS NOT NEW.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—A story has reached here to the effect that the Southern Pacific Company intends making a descent on San Diego in the shape of a branch line. The news is not new and only the confirmation is lacking. Messrs. Crocker and Stubbs were in the vicinity of the city of "Bay in Climate" about six weeks ago. There is probably renewed the rumor. It is also said that an engineer, Mr. D'Henry, is in San Diego making surveys for a new freight line.

The wife and child of W. F. White, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe system, are visiting Los Angeles and Southern California.

The reorganization committee of the Union Pacific Railway stockholders has nearly completed its work, and a definite plan will probably be announced early next week.

T. G. Condon, president and general manager of the Southern and Northern road, arrived in Los Angeles from Coronado yesterday. He is traveling in the private car Wanderer.

A New York dispatch dated the 20th inst. says that semi-official announcement is made that the newly-formed reorganization committee of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad system, which it is claimed, will prove acceptable to all interests in the company. It is not thought the committee will find it necessary to call for the deposit of any class of bonds.

People who are afraid to go to San Francisco by rail over the Tehachapi and narrow gauge, fearing the safety of the road, will feel safe in the knowledge that it is claimed, will prove acceptable to all interests in the company.

The first event of the day was the test of lassoing, throwing and tieing cattle. All mounted and splendid horses, were trained and steered, and such a whirlwind of noise is seldom heard in the presence of assembled thousands of men, women and children. There was great excitement in the grand stand, and several ladies were seen to be in tears, and others to be in fits of狂笑 (laughter).

When the large herd of wild cattle were turned loose, and caused to be driven into the arena, something stampeded them, and such a whirlwind of noise is seldom heard in the presence of assembled thousands of men, women and children. The problem confronted him, and he was equal to it.

There was only one thing to be done.

(The Tammany Times) — A determined-looking man, with a nose like the beak of a hawk, a bad eye, and built all the way up from the ground like a bantam, went to Superintendent.

The applicant smiled a smile that made even the superintendent feel uncomfortable. It was a combination Richard III. and Othello-in-the-last-act smile.

"Do you have six prisoners and one way to escape would you leave the five and follow up the fugitive?"

"Certainly I would; but I would shoot the other five first."

"You will not do," replied the superintendent. "You are too tough for New York."

Indian Idolators in Arizona.

(St. Louis Republic) — There is a small tribe of Indians in Southern Arizona who are idolaters. They are in reality sun worshipers, but make small images out of clay with faces supposed to represent the sun, although bearing little, if any, resemblance to it. They do not associate with other tribes, and are very rarely seen by white men.

The Indians have these in their houses and wigwams, and at certain seasons they hold a sun dance, which is with them a religious ceremony.

The Indians have a form of priesthood, although a few of them were at one time induced to abandon their idols by the works of the Jesuits.
